The Law Firm for Truck Safety Expands Rocky Mountain Presence with Addition of Renowned Truck Accident Attorneys

Award-Winning Legal Team Strengthens Firm's Commitment to Justice for Truck Crash Victims Across Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, and Beyond

Casper, WY — January 21, 2025— The Law Firm for Truck Safety, a personal injury law firm exclusively handling truck accident litigation, announces a significant expansion of its reach throughout the Rocky Mountain and Western regions of the United States with the addition of Grant Lawson as Managing Partner and Joe Chenchar as Associate. This strategic growth provides truck crash victims across Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, and Oregon with direct access to focused legal representation from one of the nation's premier truck accident law firms.

Grant Lawson, recognized as Lawyer of the Year 2023 by U.S. News Best Lawyers in America, brings 18 years of legal experience and a proven track record of securing seven and eight-figure settlements in trucking accident cases. Board-certified as a Truck Accident Lawyer by the National Board of Trial Advocacy (NBTA), Lawson's leadership roles include serving as President of the Wyoming Trial Lawyers Association, being a Regent member of the Academy of Truck Accident Attorneys (ATAA), and Co-Chair of the Transportation Accountability Committee with American Association for Justice's Trucking Litigation Group.

The firm's expansion also welcomes Joe Chenchar, a fourth-generation Wyoming native who brings six years of government law experience and a deep understanding of state and local trucking regulations to the practice. Licensed to practice in Wyoming, Colorado, and Oregon, Chenchar's methodical approach strengthens the firm's client-centered focus across the region.

"Grant and Joe joining our firm marks a pivotal moment in our history," said Michael Leizerman, Co-Founding Partner at The Law Firm for Truck Safety. "Their combined expertise and deep roots in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Northwest regions enable us to provide comprehensive legal support to truck crash victims across the western United States. It's a powerful combination that will serve our clients exceptionally well."

This expansion combines local expertise with national reputation. The Law Firm for Truck Safety stands apart through its attorneys' unique insights into the trucking industry, with many holding Class A Commercial Driver's Licenses, providing crucial technical understanding in complex cases.

Reflecting on joining the firm, Lawson notes, "My team has always fought to give truck crash victims a powerful voice and to make our roads safer. By joining The Law Firm for Truck Safety, we're combining our regional expertise with national resources, allowing us to advocate more effectively for victims and their families across the Rocky Mountain region."

For Chenchar, the move represents an opportunity to serve his home community: "Growing up in Wyoming, I've seen firsthand how truck crashes can impact our tight-knit communities. Joining The Law Firm for Truck Safety gives me the opportunity to help my neighbors when they need it most, combining my understanding of our region with the firm's exceptional resources in truck accident litigation."
